McCormack Secures Department Head

Mr. Cary McCormack

"I feel that if a teacher has good rapport with his students, then it makes teaching all worthwhile. I hesitated at first to take the position as head of the Social Studies Department, but it seems to be working out smoothly and now I can do two things I love at once," stated Mr. McCormack, personal law teacher.

This well-known teacher applied for this position and was notified by Dr. Thomas O'Rourke that he was selected. "It was my first step upwards and besides, I like being a leader."

When asked if students get a better foundation by choosing social study electives or taking three years of U.S. History, Mr. McCormack said, "I feel the system Manasquan has is ideal in a way that upperclassmen have a chance to branch off into particular interests. If a student is planning to be a psychologist, psychology would be the class to take; personal law for those interested in law and so on."

Before thinking of being a teacher, Mr. McCormack had his mind set on becoming a pre-law student. In his senior year at Wake Forest, he decided to broaden his background prior to graduation. He turned to the teaching field and after graduation, he returned home and lived with his parents in Manasquan. From there, he was able to procure a job at Manasquan High School.

Can you name this member of Manasquan High School?

Clue - He is a member of the Varsity baseball team.

Last week's mug was sophomore Eugene
Matthews.

Stick Of The Week

This week's award goes to sophomore Julie Murray. Julie earned the award for her adventure in the boys' room. Last week she came into school early for extra help. Julie thought that she was knocking on the door of the Women's Faculty room. After three knocks, she entered the room. To her dismay, she saw three boys using the facilities. Good going, Julie!

The runner-up award goes to Mike Meehan. Mike was seen last Saturday night fashioning a bathing suit.
Upon questioning, Mike replied, "I like to think of the summer all of the time."

National Honor Society Inducts 20

The following students were inducted into the Beta Omega Chapter of the National Honor Society on Wednesday evening: Janet Anderson, Larry Brewer, Linda Buxton, Meave Charlebois, Mary Clark, Tamara Cole, Laura Coyne, Joyce Ervin, Richard Fendl, Deborah Fletcher, Kimberly Killian, Melinda Kovats, Gayle LaVance, Virginia Lucas, Patti Martin, Jennifer Murray, Michael Pearce, Alfred Sheppard, Lisa Spagnoli and Edward Ziegler.

The National Honor Society requirements have been changed to allow an equal opportunity for everyone. "The old system wasn't clean cut enough to be fair," stated Mrs. Patricia Limpantsis, National Honor Society adviser.

The academic requirements were raised from a 4.2 to 4.5 average. Students must obtain points which are given for school and community activities, employment and volunteer work. Potential candidates have to fill out an activity sheet and have it signed by their adviser or employer.

"After the faculty sheets are accepted, the faculty votes on each student's character and leadership qualities," stressed Mrs. Limpantsis. Three negative votes eliminate a student from the selection.

The National Honor Society is offered to sophomores and juniors which enables them more time to work on their points. Sophomores must have twelve points and juniors, twenty points to be considered for the National Honor Society.

Awards Night has been changed from January to April 26. Last Wednesday a special induction was held for the seniors who missed the selection at the end of their junior year. This will only take place this year to make up for the difference in the changing of the Awards Night.

Because senior inductees were selected under the 4.2 academic requirements, this group of new members was allowed to seek membership under the old requirements.

"We are the Beta Omega Chapter of the National Honor Society which is sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. The qualifications for membership are excellence in scholarship, service, leadership and character," stated the adviser.

The National Honor Society initiated a tutoring program for elementary and high school students and a student exchange program. The members also maintain an honor roll bulletin board, publish the student hand book and conduct the Academic Awards Night.

SHOOTING THE BULL WITH SEAN BOYAN

NEWS ITEM: ANDY, ARE YOU THERE?

Is United Nations ambassador Andrew Young still alive? Well, if he is, I don't believe it. He couldn't have gone two months now without uttering a single word to anybody about Human rights. Can anyone remember the days when our first black ambassador to the U.N. was a rabble-rouser? Andy, you can't just stop taunting countries like Russia and Uganda; why they'll get the feeling that their gross human negligence is somehow not all that bad. Was it President Carter himself, Andy? Did he tell ya, "Andy, If you all screw up the SALT talks because of your big mouth, I'm gonna have you pickin' peanuts back in Plains!"

Plutocracies like the Soviet Union have to be cracked on once in awhile, Andy. We can't let them get away with breaking rules which are made up by the United Nations; rules which are supposed to be followed by all countries. We can't let them persecute Jews or anybody just because of a particular religious belief. The organization is called the United Nations, not the Soviet United Nations. Hey Andy, you might not be able to change things over there, but you can make an awful lot of noise and embarrass the hell out of them.

Mr. Young, you couldn't have forgotten your verbal war against Idi Amin. He's still executing thousands, torturing more, and mocking the whole premise behind the United Nations. Given a couple years, his murder record will be higher than that of Adolf Hitler, and the greatest murderer of all time, Mao Tse Tung. Mr. ambassador, how can you let the country you represent be a member of a body which harbors a cannibalistic tyrant like Idi Amin.

The pressure from the top can't be that bad, Andy. I didn't think a man like you could be made into the President's puppet. The job can't be of so much value to you that you won't quit if you're being muffled. Besides, big countries like Russia and atrocities like Uganda need to be kicked in the shins once in a while. You should be doing the kicking. We'd like to hear from you, Andy. Andy, are you there?

NEWS ITEM: PELE FINISHES IMPORTANT CAREER.

Soccer's all time greatest, Pele, ended his unbelievable career in Giants stadium last Sunday, but end is the wrong word, for Soccer in America is only beginning. When Pele signed with the Cosmos in 1974, I couldn't believe he was paid an astronomical sum of money to play a sport that was almost non-existent in America. Although a high price for the Cosmos to pay, it's no comparison to what they'll make if they keep filling those seventy eight thousand seats in the Meadowlands. Even more important, more cities will be wanting teams and the NASL will become credible. Ah, that word credible. He gave it to Soccer in America. Pele intrigued enough people and the word got around.

So, we have another American sport. Maybe one of these days you women will be laboring through Soccer on Sunday afternoons. And you American Football fans, don't make hasty conclusions. Given a chance, Soccer can be an exciting game to watch. Pele did it almost single handedly. At thirty eight, considered ancient in the sports world, he scored a goal from thirty yards out. He truly played like he was half his age. We thank you, Pele, you gave us another sport to hide our troubles. Football won't suffer, Joe P Football Fan, Pele and Soccer don't want to take over America. All they're asking for is a piece of the pie.

NEWS ITEM: ALI BATTERED BUT NOT BEATEN.

When are you gonna get smart and retire Muhammad? How can a man of your intelligence go on getting mauled in the ring? Earnie Shavers hurt you, but you've still got your title. Go out the Heavyweight champion and let these young ones, Young and Norton, battle for the title. Muhammad Ali has earned his championship. The money can't be that great. You can only spend so much. If you get in the ring with a heavy puncher like Ken Norton, a man who broke your jaw once before, your brains will be jelly when it's all over. What's the sense of that?

Meet The Board

Michael De Santis

Before hitting any issues this week, let's clear up some common misconceptions about any Board of Education, using the quiz below as a guide to your Board knowledge.

- 1) True or false- Students are not allowed at Board meetings.
- 2) True or false- Students have no say in changing or amending Board policy or decisions.
- 3) Multiple Choice- The Manasquan Board of Education is:
 - a) saintly, b) out to get everybody, c) only human

If your answers were true, true and b), it could be that you're one who shoots off his opinion without checking the facts, if you had any to begin with. If you chose false, false and c), you are ready to contribute to an useful and important Board-student relationship. Question one is a myth so old that Socrates would laugh. Many students use this "rule" as an excuse not to attend Board meetings. You are only hurting your chances of improving Manasquan High School by not voicing your opinions. This leads to question two which, if true, would be against the U.S. Constitution. When at Board meetings, feel free to ask questions about topics that you don't understand or present an opinion that you feel the Board should know to make the right decision. And contrary to popular belief, students' opinion banded together in petition form, can change a Board decision. The Board's decision to release Miss Linda Leitstein was reversed, by a good part, by student opinion. This is a great example of Student Rights.

One item which must be understood is that the Board of Education is only human. They do make mistakes, occasionally. But most people in Manasquan are far too critical of the Board's errors and not at all congratulatory when the group makes a good decision. If you are going to be someone that loves to pick apart Board members, at least be fair and tell the Board about a decision you approved of. In improving the Board and the apathy situation, good communications are essential. The Board usually comes through on their half of the bargain, by answering questions at Board meetings and providing two public forums for the public to express their opinion. The Board could go a little further by going out and getting the man-on-the-street's opinion so they wouldn't be so surprised at the audience's questions. On the other hand, Manasquan citizens could ask intelligent questions at the public forums and try to avoid "attacking" the Board on every move they make. The Board has to do a lot more good than bad otherwise the school would not be running as well under such inhumane environment such as double sessions.

The students should also understand just how much power that the Board has in running the school. They have all the power, which may not be such a good idea. No matter how young or old a Board member is, he can just not look at the school from a student's point of view, unless he think like a student. I don't know why people are afraid to do this. Always thinking, "How much money is it going to cost us?" is a shallow way of thinking of a student's education, the most important tool that anyone will go through life with. If the Board allowed a teacher's, student's, and parent's point of view before making a decision, they wouldn't have a hassle of argument at a public meeting, which can be embarrassing for everyone.

I hope that the students start to appreciate the importance of themselves in a school system. We are the prime concern and we should have a say about how are education is handled.

Nader Strikes Back With FANS

The consumer advocate who battled General Motors, food processors, the Chamber of Commerce and Congress has come up with a new opponent.

Ralph Nader has formed FANS (Fight to Advance the Nation's Sports), an organization to protect the spectators rights against what he calls, "a rising crescendo of fraud and fast buck artistry."

Mr. Nader's new battle is bound to shock the sports industry. Under his provisions, spectators will be able to participate in drafting sports rules and also to be informed on all sports operations.

Unwittingly, at one time or another, we have all been hustled. John Q. Public is tired of paying a tariff of abomination for hot dogs that are often not even warm, beer that is not even cold and parking that is not safe.

A prime example of these rip-offs occurred last weekend. The New Jersey Meadowlands Complex oversold the Cosmos game by 2,500 tickets. The 2,500 people are slowly getting their money back. The front office stated the reason for mistake was, "new people in the office."

It would be wrong for the public to have a say in the management aspect of sports. There are many phases of sports that the uninformed would misconstrue. This misinformation could be detrimental to the team.

Fans should have a voice, though, in their physical well-being. If a fan is willing to spend up to $25 for a ticket, the least management could do would be to make him comfortable.

The complaints of the fans should weigh heavily with management. Management has an obligation to its supporters. It is these supporters who really make the team run. These people are paying the players' and managers' salaries. Nader again proves people can beat the system.

If this sounds dull or uneventful, you're badly mistaken. All it takes to appreciate this fine sport of riding is a little education. This is where your friendly neighborhood Monmouth County Park can come in handy. The Park has already run one hunter's pace and is sponsoring another this October. The event will prove to be interesting and informative to all who attend. The park will also provide two clinics. These clinics are designed for the beginner and will include two films on equestrianism. The training team from the 1976 Olympic equestrian team will also be on hand in the near future to answer questions about training your horse and yourself. If interested, contact Mike De Santis in the Warrior Room. The events are coming up soon, so don't horse around; get your tail end to a Monmouth County Park to see the prestigious equestrians in action!

Symposium: What is your solution to the student parking problem?

1.) Start a petition to let the students know about the problem. If this doesn't work, have a protest. Have everyone park their cars on the front lawn of the school. If this fails, park all the cars on the football field and chain the bumpers together so they can't be towed away.

Mike Pelly

2.) The school should provide a spacious, blacktop area in order to alleviate the parking monotony.

Melanie Shinn

3.) Possibly take a small portion of the new athletic fields and use that for a parking lot. This way we'd have a sports field with a parking lot next to it. Visiting teams could use it on weekends and we could use it on weekdays.

Jeff Nielson

4.) Due to the fact that there are more students than faculty members, the students should take over the rights to the parking lot. The faculty members should park elsewhere.

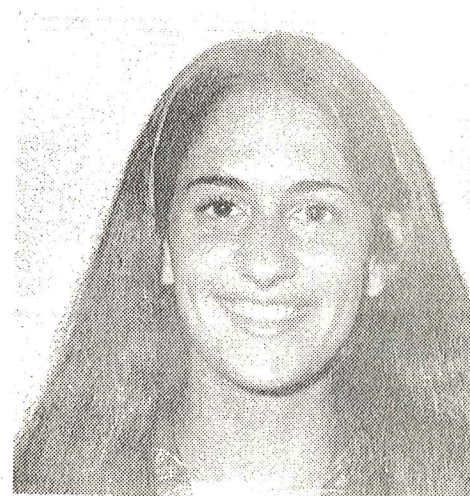

Reg Hyde

5.) Right now there is so much confusion about where to park. I feel something should be done about getting the students a parking lot.

Denise Tahan

6.) The students should have their own parking lot. Then they will stay out of the faculty parking lot especially at the end of the year.

Miceli Student Gym Teacher

"I'm enjoying teaching here. It's a very nice school. The students are very cooperative," remarked Miss Miceli, new student gym teacher.

Miss Miceli is attending Trenton State College and will graduate in December of this year.

"After I graduate I hope to go into coaching gymnastics as well as teaching," stated the student teacher.

Miss Miceli remarked, "I think girls have become more athletic in recent years and I hope they continue to reach their highest goals."

When asked for her opinion of the girls' teams at Manasquan she said, "From what I see, they work very hard and I think they will have a winning season."

She enjoys going to football games since her fiance plays for Upsala in East Orange. The couple will be married on October 8, 1978.

Miss Miceli summed everything up by saying, "I enjoy working for the whole gym department, both women and men. I am learning a lot from the faculty and students."

Miss Miceli will be leaving Squan on October 21, 1977. Manasquan High School wishes her the best of luck.

Ratings have not been high in TV for comedians trying to do variety shows. But NBC is taking the odds and putting their money on the "Richard Pryor Show" to break this recent stereotype. Richard Pryor, master of the standup comedy act, has done a few specials before but has never had his own show. He said that he will try to reach many people with his show, people of all ages and that's why it airs at 8 p.m. on Tuesday. Known for his expertise in pantomime and clowning, he does a lot of skits in the show with kids. Most of these are really funny and keep the younger viewers happy. The format of this variety offering is different than others in its class; there is almost no music. It's comedy all the way through. Richard starts with his standup act and follows with skits. The co-stars in these mini-plays are many of the young comedians who made appearances in Richard Pryor's movies ("Car Wash", "Silver Streak", and "Greased Lighting"); these are delightful young actors and they mesh well with Pryor.

The "Richard Pryor Show" has appeared twice this season and both times it's been very good. In the last episode he did his standup act on prejudice. Using his best southern voice, he cracked heavily on a redneck from Georgia. Pryor has been doing this act for years and it's still hilarious. Other skits on the show included a bit with Richard and the crew acting as cavemen. The main caveman (Richard Pryor) rubs two rocks together and invents fire. The rest of the cavemen proceed to go crazy.

On the first show of the year, a weekly skit was started about a mentally disturbed ward in a hospital called Ward Eight. A group of mentally unbalanced people just babble on about nothing in particular. The co-stars in the "Richard Pryor Show" make this skit very good using their creativeness to make up characters. Richard later does a very unique "Circus in the Ghetto" using debris in an abandoned alley to help his stunts. His pantomime and the children's imagination make the circus almost real.

The "Richard Pryor Show" is in a very tough time slot competing against "Happy Days" and "Laverne and Shirley". His show will have to be as good as the last two to succeed. A time slot switch would be a blessing for the "Richard Pryor Show" but it may stay above water on its own.

NOTE: In a late development Richard Pryor has decided to quit his show and has defeated the whole purpose of this article. He was incensed about the way NBC was censoring his comedy material. Pryor also said he didn't need the money. He's the only star I know of that wanted his shows run to end.

The Look

BLAZERS

Blazers are one of the most versatile fashions today.

View 1 is double-breasted and worn over a shirt and pants for a clean, casual look. The scarf in the upper pocket adds flair.

View 2 is also double-breasted and pin-striped. Worn with a skirt and a soft blouse, it's classic, yet feminine. The lapel flower makes it even more so.

View 3 is a simple, single breasted blazer, worn over a turtleneck and pants for a casual, any day look.

View 4 - This is men's wear at its best. The plaid blazer layered over a sweater vest, shirt and khaki pants, combines all of fall's colors and textures for one great look.

October 11th - Decision Day

On Tuesday, October 11, the students of Manasquan High School will select five students from their grade to represent them in the Student Council.

These representatives must attend all meetings which will be held on the second Thursday of every month at 11:00 am or 12:20 pm. They must also attend emergency meetings that might be called by the officers or advisers. They must inform the members of their class as to the issues the Student Council wishes to present to the student body. They must encourage and accurately record student response and present this information at the monthly meetings.

The officers urge the students of Manasquan High School to seriously consider their choices for this position.

"We hope that this method of electing representatives will bring out responsible and interested students, ones who are genuinely concerned about their school and their fellow students and who are willing to put out an effort to make M.H.S. a great place to be," stated Mr. Ravaioli, Student Council adviser.

Your 1977-78 Student Council officers with the help of their advisers, Miss More and Mr. Ravaioli, formulated this method of electing representatives in order to make our Student Council function more effectively.

If any student has a question, problem, or suggestion for the Student Council, we would appreciate it if you would contact one of the following or drop a note in the Warrior room. Your problem may be handled through this column which will appear in every issue of the school newsmagazine.

Frisbeemania

Frisbee has taken on new dimensions, other than the game of catch played on the beach. It has become a legitimate sport with a championship held in the Rose Bowl. However, it still has a long way to go to be a major sport such as football or baseball.

There's freestyle frisbee where you show off your skills. Spectacular catches; behind the back, between the legs and while spinning in the air, difficult throws like finger flicks and behind the back spinning throws.

The world record for distance throwing of a frisbee is 436 feet. The longest a frisbee has remained aloft in the air is 11 seconds while the record for accuracy throwing through a five foot hoop, is 50 yards.

Veron Valley, a ski resort, becomes an eighteen hole frisbee golf course where a pole replaces a cup. Then there's guts frisbee, two teams stand thirty feet apart from each other, and they must catch it. A judge rules if it is good or not; sometimes the frisbee travels at speeds up to 90 miles per hour.

Ultimate frisbee tests all of your skills and is a game played by colleges. The object is to pass the frisbee to a teammate and cross the goaline. However, you can't run with it, and once it hits the ground, it goes to the other team.

When throwing a frisbee, remember to snap your wrist at the target. This puts spin on it and keeps it from wobbling or missing the target. When catching a frisbee, put one hand on the bottom and one hand on the top, and close them tight. Frisbee is the fad that refuses to die.

The most difficult of these are, "Do you wanna be abused?" and "Ha, your mother." When using a Tullism, one must remember to use a nasal tone or all effect will be lost.

The Wall game, which seems a distant past, and almost anti-climatic after the big conference win over Rumson, was also won by the Warriors, 14-0.

The Big Blue struck early in this contest too, when Lorenzo Morgan returned a punt 47 yards to the Knight 6-yard line just two minutes into the game. This is where the Warrior offense took it in for the score on the third play. The touchdown was a 3-yard slant by Bob Briant.

The Warriors scored less than five minutes later when Carl Mennie recovered a Wall fumble on the Knight 47. The offense drove the 47 yards in 7 plays with Bob Briant going over for the 1-yard touchdown plunge. The big play of the drive was a 34-yard run by quarterback Gary Bridges.

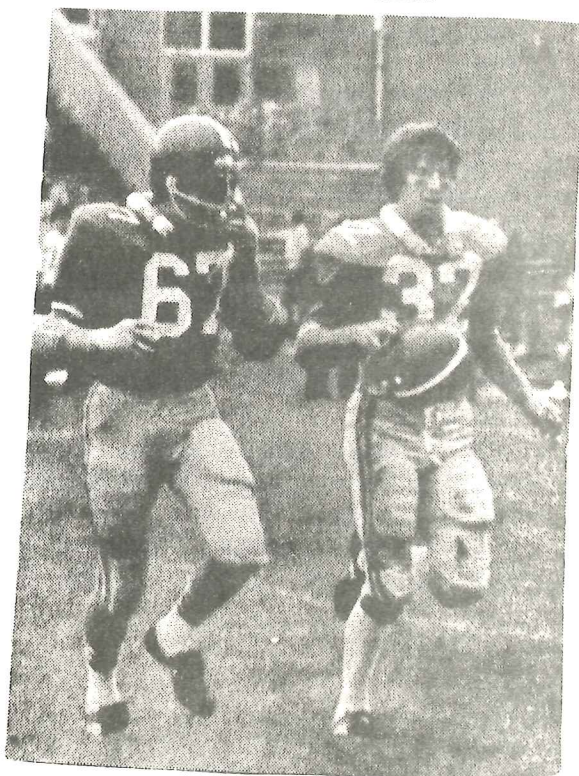

There was no scoring through the remainder of the game with the Warrior offense never getting on track and the defense styming Wall. The Knights imposed many a threat but the Warrior defense would bend but never break. Much of the defensive credit should go to the defensive line play of Brian Barber, Jim Kelsey, Pat Lynch, and Carl Mennie and to safety Joe Cadott who came up with a big interception late in the game.

These two wins were tune ups for the big game this Saturday against the explosive and always powerful Asbury Park Bishops. The game will probably determine the conference championship and state playoff-berth. The Bishops coming off two impressive victories over Manalapan and Marlboro are led by quarterback Tim White and fullback Sean King, two of the Shore's top players. As a closing reminder, fans, tomorrow's game will be a thriller with two explosive teams billing for a big conference win.

Falcons Upset JV Booters, 3-1

"We miss too many open shots and we're not as fast as I had hoped," stated JV soccer coach Mr. Richard Johnson as his team faltered to the highly ranked Monmouth Regional Falcons last Tuesday by the score of 3-1 at the Falcons' home turf.

The Squan booters were really not ready for the Falcons, as they came into the game with several people hurt. Matt Demsey was not able to play because he was moved up to Varsity and he did a fine job in his Varsity debut.

Against Monmouth, the players came out performing poorly, not passing to the open man, missing too many open shots and not talking to each other. Tommy Herrmann got Squan started in the first period by drilling the ball past the goalie on an unassisted shot. The warriors held the Falcons scoreless through the first period. The Falcons came right back in the second period to tie game at 1-1. It was a cheap goal but they all count. At intermission the Warriors and the Falcons were deadlocked.

The Monmouth Regional Falcons must have wanted the game more than the JV booters as they came out hungry for goals. They came up with two quick goals on fast breaks right down the middle of Squan's defense.

Squan's defense held their own the rest of the game, but the offense could not penetrate the Falcons tough defense. As darkness set in the Warriors were set down.

Mr. Johnson is still concerned about the JV booters because they are not taking advantage of opportunities and not scoring the easy goals in the clutch situations.

The JV warriors' next game is against the Asbury Park Blue Bishops on Tuesday. Gametime is 3:30 at the Blue Bishops home field.

Bulldogs Stun Frosh Gridders, 19-0

"They didn't beat us; we beat ourselves," stated starting quarterback Richard Esdale. "But it won't happen again." The freshman footballers suffered a 19-0 loss on Saturday against the Rumson Bulldogs.

The game was not very exciting because Squan was unable to move the ball on offense although the game was very competitive defensively. The first score came late in the first quarter when Rumson scored on a run from inside the 20 yard line, but the extra point failed so the score at the end of the first period stayed at 6-0.

The second quarter was much the same as the first with Squan's defense playing tough, but the offense was unable to move at all. Rumson looked very strong running all over Manasquan's defensive attack. Rumson again worked their way down the gridiron to pick up 6 more points and unfortunately the first half ended with a score of 14-0 in favor of Rumson.

It looked like a different story at the start of the third quarter with Squan's offense starting to roll as they successfully completed passes and ran the ball for many first downs. But still the Manasquan offensive attack was stifled by the powerhouse Rumson line.

The young Warriors came out in the 4th quarter still very confident, looking for victory. The rugged Rumson running game seem unstoppable. The highlight in the 4th quarter came when the hungry Bulldogs threw a bad pass, and it was intercepted by Squan and ran back for 40 yards. Then the offense went to work; they moved the ball down the field and stopped at the 12-yard line where they had a 2nd down and 5 to go. They fumbled and Rumson recovered on the 15. That was Squan's biggest scoring threat all game.

After the very unfortunate turnover in the 4th quarter, Squan's offense was down, but their defense came out fighting and they managed to hold the Rumson offense to just one more touchdown to end the game at 19-0.

This Athlete of the Week does not get recognition like members of the backfield do, but he is one of the most valuable players on the football team. Carl Mennie's blocking and defensive abilities are a major asset to the squad.

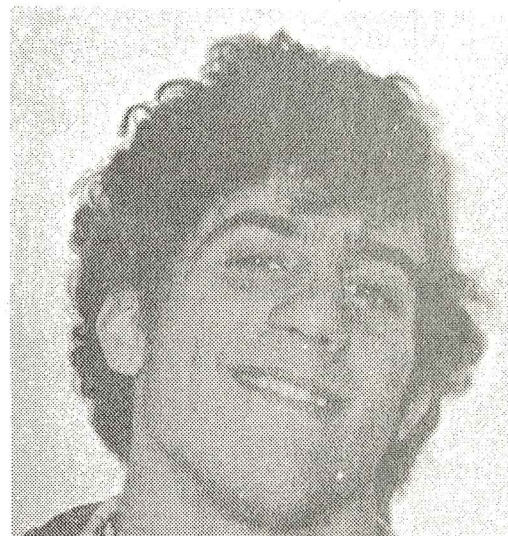

This senior has been playing football since freshman year and is in his second year on the varsity level. Carl starts at defensive end and offensive tackle.

In the winter Carl participates in the Manasquan weightlifting program and owns five school records; among these he holds the dead lift record of 450 pounds.

During track season Carl throws the shot put. Last year was his first season and he should see varsity action this spring.

This Spring Lake Heights resident is an honor roll student. He is a member of the National Honor Society and received Board of Education and Kiwanis awards.

After graduation Carl is interested in entering the Naval Marine Corp ROTC program and eventually becoming a pilot.

The Manasquan resident ran varsity track her freshman and sophomore years. During her sophomore year Melinda helped in setting the shuttle hurdles record in the Garden State Relays. She plans to run track this spring after taking a year off.

Besides sports Melinda is Student Council Treasurer and a member of the National Honor Society. She is also an honor roll student and received the Board of Education Award.
